Job: (local) Production Events Manager
Location: Carbondale, Colorado
Position Type: Full Time
Salary: 70k - 80k

Production Event Managers are responsible for managing the production process, including the development and management of the budget and work breakdown structure from project inception through project closure. You will be responsible for ensuring the project is produced safely and structurally, on time and within budget. This is done in conjunction with achieving the creative objectives of the proposal, meeting financial objectives, and maintaining high quality standards.

Production Event Managers are responsible for producing medium to large scale projects across all disciplines (exhibits, special events, corporate meetings, weddings, live shows, experiential marketing, permanent installations, and tradeshow), as well as providing professional guidance to less-experienced members of the Production Management Department. Production Event Managers regularly interface with leadership, sales, design, engineering, fabrication, operations and account management. Additionally, interaction with outside vendors and clients is required.

The successful candidate is confident, assertive and capable of multi-tasking and meeting demanding deadlines. Candidate must be a proactive, independent worker who can thrive in a fast-paced environment. Candidate must be able to work independently or as part of a team and must have the ability to give direction, delegate, and have a high sense of detail and organization.

Key Job Responsibilities:

- Identify the costs of producing the job, develop the budgets and submit costs to sales for proposal development
- Create account information and build out estimates, proposals and opportunities within the production event software IntelliEvent
